THE RETREAT AT FALLING WATERS.

The morning dawns with murky clouds,
And deep'ning gloom the earth enshouds,
As through the darksome forest drear
In haste armed men bring up the rear—
The ambulance with battle slain,
Long lines with cumbrous wagon train—
All that was once an army grand,
That sought to gain the promised land.

The horses from exhaustion sink
Beneath their riders, on the brink
Of the Potomac's swelling tide,
Where hopes of val'rous men have died;
'Mid emerald green and darkling pines,
Faint scented rose and eglantine,
The soldier sleeps, and all in vain
The bugles call to life again.

But hark! from every copse and glen,
The keen quick rifles flash, and then,
Along the hillsides steep defile,
The rebels faster flee; the while
The Howitzers from off the height
Pour down with fury leaden might,
And panic and dismay again
Doth fill the hearts of Southern men.

Whilst many lips breath forth a prayer,
Some curse the fate that brought them there;
Some murmur of the promise vain
That Lee would take them back again
With victory flushed on every hand,
And win, for them, "my Maryland!"

They haste the tide to quickly stem
That hastes in turn to swallow them,
And the frail pontoons creak and groan,
Uniting with the tempest's tone,
With tramp of horse and weary men,
With booming guns adown the glen;
Well may the vanquished feel dismay,
They've stemmed the tide but lost the day!

STATE TICKET.

FOR GOVERNOR
GEN. JOHN W. GEARY.

JUDGE OF SUPREME COURT
HON. HENRY W. WILLIAMS.

THE New York Herald says Gov. GEARY "is the strongest man the Republicans have. He carried the State on a full vote in 1866 by 20,000 majority. The Democrats will have to put up a popular man of progressive ideas, a man who believes that there has been a deluge, and that the Democratic ideas of 1860 are dead issues, or they will be beaten again. The days of Copperheadism came to an end last November." As the Herald is frequently quoted as good authority by the Copperheads, its opinion of Gov. GEARY is respectfully submitted to their consideration.

A COPPERHEAD paper finds fault with General Grant for not having the gift of "gab" on his tours through the country—in other words, because he doesn't make lengthy speeches. The fact is, that three of the greatest Presidents this country had previous to the election of Gen. Grant—Washington, Jefferson and Jackson—could not make extemporaneous speeches, while three of the worst, Pierce, Buchanan and Johnson, possessed more than ordinary oratorical powers. The truth is, "gab" has well nigh been the ruin of this nation, and, as a cotemporary has well remarked, Grant is doing an inestimable service in demonstating that the need of the Republic is work—not incessant talk.

A STATE Convention of School Superintendents will be held in Harrisburg on Tuesday next, July 20, for an interchange of views on important educational topics, with a view to securing as great efficiency as possible in the educational work to be done during the present term of the Superintendency. Hon. J. P. WICKERSHAM, State Superintendent, is a live educator, and in calling this Convention desires promptly to meet in council the County Superintendents recently elected, to devise and agree on such plans and improvements as may secure the largest degree of success in the practical administration of the School system.—The charges at the Harrisburg Hotels will range from $2 th $2.50 per day.—The leading Railroads will issue free return tickets.

FRANK BLAIR, the recent Democratic candidate for Vice President, through the agency of some friends, attended the dinner of the officers of the Army of the Potomac, at their recent Reunion, and undertook to make a speech, lauding Stonewall Jackson, Gen. Lee and other Rebel officers. He was promptly "hissed," and the President found it necessary to call him to order. His friends apologize for his offensive utterances, by insisting that he was not himself—having imbibed freely.—Frank fought well in the Union Army, but has become utterly demoralized since he went over to the Democratic camp—probably because he regards Democracy and sympathy with Rebellion necessary concomitants, and being in Rome feels bound to do as Romans do. But he should not forget that a convocation of Union Soldiers is not a Democratic camp.

GEORGE PEABODY, the distinguished American banker, who amassed a large fortune in England, and who several years ago made a princely donation of several millions of dollars to promote Education in the Southern States, has made another gift of over a million dollars to the same cause. In consequence of advancing age and failing health, Mr. Peabody has returned to the home of his birth and early love, and now resides in Danvers, Massachusetts. His gifts to this one object will amount to about $4,000,000, to be administered by Trustees named by him. Besides the gifts to this object, he has made liberal donations to local objects, library associations, educational institutions, &c., in various parts of the country. Although the greater part of his life was spent in England, he is throughly American in all his views.

WHEREVER the Republican party rules in the country, says the Miners' Journal, there indebtedness is reduced and the people prosper. For instance, the State of Iowa recently paid off a large part of its debt, and has funds on hand sufficient to redeem the outstanding loans, as soon as the holders are ready to receive the money. And Indiana is pursuing the same course.—Five years ago the debt of that State was $9,000,000, and has now been reduced to $2,600,000, of which $800,000 will be paid off on July 1st, leaving only $1,800,000 still due. It is the same in Pennsylvania. Under the Republican Administration of Governors Curtin and Geary the State debt has been largely reduced and taxation lightened. The tax on real estate has been altogether removed. If the people want this satisfactory state of affairs to continue they must re-elect Geary in October. To return to Sham Democratic government will be to invite increased indebtedness and misrule.

THE returns of the voting on the question of Lay Delegation in the Methodist Episcopal Church, already received, indicate its adoption by a large majority. As far as heard from the vote stands, for 52,806, against 18,846—a majority of nearly three to one. This virtually decides the question, as at the present ratio of voting it is not likely that 50,000 more will be cast, and there is no reasonable probability that they will materially change the result. The returns already reported include churches located in the large cities and those scattered over rural districts, and the average majority in favor of Lay Delegation seems to be as decided in the smaller as in the larger churches. Hence it is but reasonable to infer that the majority will only be increased when the entire returns are in. This great ecclesiastical revolution in the policy of the Methodist Episcopal Church has been accomplished without ill-feeling or undue excitement. It will mark a new era in the history of the church. Hereafter the laity—embracing some of the ablest men of the country—will be brought into active, if not controlling, connection with the legislation of the Conferences and the development of the Church. We have no doubt the result will be found beneficial.

RESULTS OF REPUBLICAN RULE.

Here are some of the results of four months administration of affairs by President GRANT, gathered from a speech recently made by General GARFIELD, at Columbus, Ohio. The first three quarters of the present fiscal year, which ended yesterday, yielded in revenue $250,000,000. The last quarter of the fiscal year, ending today, will yield $100,000,000, or $20,000,000 more than any single quarter under the Johnson reign. In May, 1868, the total manufactures gave to the revenue but $1,500,000, whereas in the same month this year it produced (not including a number of districts not heard from) $4,500,000, an increase of $3,000,000 over the same month last year. And now for the expenses. During the first three quarters of the present fiscal year the expenditures amounted to $356,000,000, or an average exceeding $85,000,000. On the other hand, in the quarter ending to-day, they will not exceed $60,000,000, or $25,000,000 less than any other quarter of the year. Not only, then, will the Congressional appropriations, reduced as they were, meet the wants of the Government under General GRANT, but there will be a surplus of some $37,000,000, and the nuisance of deficiency bills appear likely to be avoided for the first time in years. These are eloquent figures for the people, who cannot but discover in them the fact that the President is literally redeeming his promise to faithfully collect the revenues and to expend the public money economically. The exhibit is one of which every American should feel proud. If in four brief months such an increase in the receipts and such a diminution in the expenditures is apparent, what may we not expect of the three years and eight months yet to come of President GRANT's administration? Surely the future is full of promise to every man who loves his country.

THE agitation in England, growing out of the pending legislation to secure the Disestablishment of the Irish Church, is becoming intensified and may result in far-reaching consequences. The House of Lords, which is intensely Tory and hostile to Reform, afraid to reject outright Gladstone's bill as it came from the Commons, went to work to change and modify its provisions, thoroughly emasculating the bill. Gladstone, Bright, and their Liberal co-adjutors, have announced their determination to insist on the principle of total disendowment, which involves a rejection of the amendments interposed by the Peers. This makes the issue square and direct between the House of Commons and the House of Lords—between aggressive Liberalism and old-fogy Conservativism—between the nation and its hereditary nobility. One or the other must yield, and no one familiar with English history can doubt the result. The Peers have taken a bold and perilous position in arraying themselves against the Commons on so vital an issue. Should they persist in defying the popular movement, the result may be an essential modification of the status and prerogatives of the Peers as a governing power. The English people have alway regarded the Commons as the expression of the will of the nation, and have been extremely sensitive as to interference with its legislation. No sovereign has dared to interpose a veto for more than a century. Just as often as the Ministry are beaten on any important issue in the Commons, a resignation follows as a matter of course, and the Sovereign calls to power a Ministry in accord with the popular will. The present issue is all the more pointed, because Gladstone is backed not only by the Commons but by a direct vote of the nation. It will be recollected that when D'Israeli was beaten in the House, a year ago, on this very question of Disestablishment, instead of throwing up the keys, (the Queen being supposed to be in accord with him,) he made an appeal to the nation. Parliament was dissolved, and a new election ordered. Both parties made Disestablishment the issue in the canvass. The result was the return of a still larger majority to the Commons in favor of Reform. D'Israeli promptly resigned. The Gladstone Ministry was organized, and the the bill for Disestablishment was carried in the House of Commons by the unprecedented majority of 125. Thus, in undertaking to fight the bill, the Peers array themselves against the deliberately expressed will of the nation—a defiance seldom paralleled in English history. The result of the conflict will be watched with deep interest.

WE are living in an age of progress, and rapidly making a history which will pre-eminently distinguish the present century. Four great events stand out in marked prominence: 1. Morse's invention of the Telegraph; 2. The laying of the Atlantic Cable; 3. The extinction of Slavery in the United States; 4. The completion of the Pacific Railway. Within twenty-five years the continent has been spanned by the wires of the telegraph. Ten years ago the lightning began to run beneath the sea. Five years ago the war for freedom ended and slavery died. And now the Atlantic and Pacific are bound together by the iron track. The young man of to-day, as a cotemporary remarks, "will have tales to tell to his grand-children such as no grand-sire of our day can summon from the stores of his memory." What next triumph in the march of events we are to witness, remains to be developed. PROGRESS—is the watchword of the age. The world is conning the great lessons our young Republic has been setting before the nations. Through ocean's depths, and from continent to continent, the electric wires are flashing messages which summon the slumbering energies of the masses to the mighty struggle which is to eventuate sooner later in the recognition of the dignity of Labor and the Brotherhood of Man. All Europe to-day feels the pulsations premonitory of the coming contest, and her despots stand in armed neutrality, awaiting events—uncertain of the future, and dreading its developments. America has but to be true to herself, and the principles of Republican government will dominate the world.

THE Sham Democracy of Ohio, despairing of success on the line of past policy, last week adopted a new dodge—the nomination of a loyal union soldier (Gen. Rosecrans) on a Copperhead platform. They seem to have forgotten that the same dodge was tried in 1864, when McClellan was put up for President, with Pendleton for Vice President, so as to give the party a chance between War and Peace—both, however, on a Platform so copperish that even McClellan protested against it. So in 1868, General Frank Blair was put up as a balance weight to Seymour. The experiments of '64 and '68 proved disastrous, and it is not likely the Ohio programme will fare better.

THE REGISTRY LAW.

Last week we noticed the fact that the Supreme Court in full bench had over-ruled Judge Shannwood's decision at Nisi Prius, and held the new Registry Law CONSTITUTIONAL. We have since read the opinion of the Court, as delivered by Justice AGNEW, which is characterized by great ability and clearness. The leading objections to the bill were that it violated that provision of the Constitution which calls for free and equal elections, and imposed qualifications for the elective franchise not recognized by the constitution. To this the Supreme Court pertinently reply that the elections should be free ony to qualified voters, and further—

"That election is not free and equal where the true electors are not separated from the false; where the ballot is not deposited in safety, or where it is supplanted by fraud. It is, therefore, the duty of the Legislature to secure freedom and equality by such regulations as will exclude the unqualified and allow the qualified only to vote."

In regard to the provisions for Philadelphia city the court say:

"When the population of a locality is constantly changing, and men are often unknown to their next-door neighbors; where a large number is floating upon the rivers and the sea, going and returning, and incapable of identification; where low inns, and restaurants, and boarding houses constantly afford the means of fraudulent additions to the lists of voters, that rule of sound reason or of constitutional law forbids the Legislature from providing a means to distinguish the honest people of Philadelphia from the rogues and vagabonds who would usurp their places and rob them of their rights?"

Nobody can object this who does not want to cheat, either for his own purposes or those of his party; and the presistent hostility of the Democratic party to all legislation designed to guard the purity of the ballot box, is susceptible of no other explanation than the assumption that these restriction will make it difficult to debauch elections, by repeating the enormous frauds which year by year swell the Democratic majorities in the dens of vice which infest all large cities. "The only kind of liberty," says Judge Agnew, "which the Registry law will destroy is that licentiousness, that adulterous freedom which surrenders the polls to hirelings and vagabonds, outcasts from home and honest industry; men without citizenship or stake in the Government; men who will commit perjury, violence, and murder itself." This is the whole truth in a nut-shell. Good citizens of all parties, who value the elective franchise and desire to preserve its purity, are under deep obligations to the Supreme Court for its vindication of the Registry law.

VIRGINIA ELECTION.

The State of Virginia has ratified her Free Constitution by the largest majority ever given for any State Constitution, past or present. It will probably reach 200,000. The Constitution, as adopted, secures Universal Suffrage—all parties, Radical and Conservative Republicans, and ever the old Hunker Democracy, agreeing on that point.—The disfranchising provisions were voted on separately, and are lost by about 30,000 majority.

The contest for Governor, as our readers are aware, was between WELLS, the regular nominee of the Republican Convention, and Walker, Conservative Republican, the latter receiving the Democratic vote and a number of colored votes. The majority for Walker and his associates on the State Ticket will be at least 20,000.

Both parties ran colored candidates in some of the districts for Legislative and Municipal offices. The result for Legislature will probably stand as follows:

	Walker.		Wells.
	White.	Colored.	White.	Colored.
Senate.....	31	1	8	4
House of Delegates.....	97	3	33	11
	128	3	41	15

The members of Congress elect are: Norton, colored Independent; Messrs. Platt and Porter, Wells Republicans; Messrs. Thayer, Ridgway, Milnes, McKenzie, and Gibson, Walker Conservatives. Segar has been elected Congressman at large, but will hardly get his seat, as Virginia is not entitled to an additional Congressman.

We see that some of our exchanges class Norton, the colored member elect from the 1st district, as a Radical Republican. This is a mistake. Norton ran as an Independent candidate, and received Conservative and Democratic votes, as against the regular Republican candidate.

THE Copperheads don't exactly know how to take the Virginia election. Upon the first flash of the telegraphic wires, announcing the defeat of Wells and the triumph of Walker, there went up a shout of jubilant huzzas from the entire Copperhead camp over what was claimed as a "great Democratic victory." But now that the smoke of battle has passed away, and a clear view of the field developes the fact that Walker ran on a distinctive Universal Suffrage basis, pledged to a ratification of the XVth Constitutional Amendment and a guarantee of Negro Suffrage in Virginia—that the Democracy of Virginia, in the canvass which resulted in Walker's election, not only ignored the "shin-bone" philosophy that has become a cherished article in the creed of their Northern brethren, but surrendered bodily to the Walker party, and actually voted for "niggers" to represent them in the Legislature—since the discovery of these facts, there has been a marked backing down by the Copperhead press, and the victory in Virginia becomes after all a problematical one. One thing is certain—"Sambo" is uppermost, and Virginia Democrats have endorsed the "nigger" as not only fit to vote, but fit to make laws even for white Democrats. And there is just the rub. Worse still—while Northern Democrats hesitate as to the issue, the Virginia Democrats are bawling themselves hoarse over the great triumph! What will our Adams county Democrats make of all this?—Just think of "white" Democrats in Richmond walking up to the polls on election day, arm in arm with Sambo, and depositing their votes for the same candidates; and that too, for candidates pledged to Universal Suffrage. Isn't it horrible? Well the negro is a power just now down in Virginia—hence his manhood is recognized and his favor courted. And we predict that as soon as Manhood Suffrage becomes a fixed fact in Pennsylvania—as it will within a year—Pennsylvania Democrats will cease their disreputable twaddle about the "nigger," and claim to have been their best friends in all the past. It will answer for one more election, to catch here and there a vote, but will then be laid aside as of no further use.

THE recent elections in France have induced Louis Napoleon to introduce sundry reforms in the Government.—The powers of the Legislative Assembly are to be enlarged, including the right to elect its own officers, the right of originating laws, passing on commercial treaties, and possibly a responsible Ministry.

NEWS OF NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

CARROLL.—James Easton has been appointed Postmaster at Wakefield, and Francis M. Hall at Waterville.—Rev. P. A. Strobell, of Westminster, has accepted a call from the Lutheran congregation at Athens, New York.—At the recent 4th of July celebration in Westminster, one of the features of the day was a tournament, in which 12 "knights" contested for the prize, a silver pitcher, goblets and waiter. The prize was awarded to E. G. Jacobs, of New Windsor. Lewis Winters' bay horse Dick won the $100 premium in the trotting match, one mile heats, best out of three; Edward Matthews carried off the $25 prize as the best velocipedist. The mule race was won by "Grey Eagle," belonging to Charles Zentz, half mile heat, prize $25.—The Sentinel says from all parts of the county the testimony is that the wheat crop is the best with which the county has been blessed, during the last five years. The oats also looks very fine, is well filled and will yield abundantly. Corn is somewhat backward, but is much improved.

CUMBERLAND.—The degree of Doctor of Divinity has been conferred on Rev. J. A. Murray, of Carlisle, by the Western University of Pittsburg.—The State Superintendent has declined to commission George W. Swartz, as County Superintendent, on the ground that the law requires the successful candidate to receive "a majority of all the Directors present," whereas Mr. S. only got a majority of those voting. The vote stood Swartz 56, Kast 55—one Director not voting. The office will be filled by appointment.—Dr. Keiffer, of Carlisle, while crossing the South Mountain, last week, on to visit a patient at York Springs, Adams county, was boldly accosted by a highwayman with a revolver, and robbed of his watch and $20.—The house of John Fahnestock, Mifflin township, was entered on the night of the 4th and robbed of $80.—Ellas Brenneman, Middlesex township, had a horse stolen from one of his fields on the night of the 5th; $100 reward offered.

FRANKLIN.—Abraham Ely, who fell from a ladder last week, while picking cherries, has died of his injuries; aged 80 years.—Last Friday night two horses were stolen, one from Samuel Lamy and the other from Mr. Jacob Strickler. Both horses were taken from pasture fields, about four miles from Chambersburg, on the Gettysburg pike.—Last Thursday evening, about dark, a stranger entered the yard of the Montgomery Hotel, in Chambersburg, mounted a horse, and made off with him. He was arrested, and the horse recovered. He gave his name as Harris, from Amberson's Valley.

WASHINGTON.—The Hagerstown Mail says: The harvesting of the wheat crop has about ended with our farmers, and from all quarters we have the most gratifying accounts that never before has the wheat yielded a richer reward for the fruits of toil. The wheat stood well and is of better quality than usual.—Conrad Nicodemus, aged 18 years, last week accidentally jumped on a mowing scythe, which cut clean through his shoe, taking off four toes of the right foot.—Two brothers named Waltz, residing near Cavetown, were recently robbed of $2,000 in specie which they had buried in the cellar of their house. A man by the name of Williams, from Pennsylvania, charged with the theft, has been arrested.—Rev. J. Hassler, of Shippensburg, Pa., has accepted a call from the Reformed congregation at Boonsboro'.

YORK.—Two colored barbers, named Pleasant and Butler, got into an altercation at Schmidt's tavern, in Hanover, on the 6th, during which Butler cut Pleasant twice severely in the left side; cause, jealousy.—On the 3d inst., a son of Wm. Dubbs, Manheim township, fell from a cherry tree and broke an arm.—On the 1st inst., one of the excursion trains on the Gettysburg Railroad ran over and killed a young bull belonging to Mrs. Catharine Sprenkle, near Hanover.—Samuel Blair, residing about two miles from Hanover, on the York road, last week, jumped from a fence on to a pile of new cut hay, where he had been at work. A concealed fork, carelessly left in the hay, penetrated and lacerated his testicles so terribly as for a time to endanger his life.—Elmira J. Geiger has been appointed Postmaster at Peach Bottom.—James A. Schall has been appointed Cashier, and Isaac A. Elliott Teller, of the York county National Bank.—Nadle & Van Ness's distillery, in North Codorus, was destroyed by fire on Thursday night last.

GALLANT ACT.—Last week, during a visit of a portion of the President's family to Laurel, Md., two sons of Dr. Sharpe, Marshal of the District of Columbia and brother-in-law of Gen. Grant, went into the Patuxent river to bathe in company with the youngest son of the President. Dent Sharpe, a promising young lad of 11 years, was noticed struggling in the water, and called out that he was drowning. His father hastily commenced to disrobe in order to jump in and save his son, but ere he could get to the scene Fred. Grant, who had just come from West Point, gallantly jumped into the river without attempting to pull off even his boots, and grasped the hair of his cousin, who was going down for the last time. With an unusual presence of mind and an exertion of extraordinary physical strength, Fred. was enabled to bring young Sharpe in safety to the shore. It was a gallant act, and one for which the young soldier deserves the utmost praise. He was made quite a lion of in Laurel, but with characteristic modesty he sought to evade the attentions that were forced upon him for his heroic conduct.

PARRICIDE.—Mr. Crawford, of Lee, New Hampshire, was killed by his son on the 9th inst., under the following circumstances. On the day before the tragedy some boys had greatly irritated Mr. Crawford by firing guns in the vicinity of his house, so much so, that he had fired at them to force them to stop, and had wounded one in the leg. On Tuesday, the next day, a dispute arose between Crawford and his son in regard to the time the boys had been firing, when Crawford called his son a liar, and threatened to break a chair over his head; the boy daring him to do so, Crawford struck him with one. Then the boy went to his room and got his revolver, and Crawford got an axe and tried to knock his son down stairs, hitting him once near the shoulder, making a small wound. He was about to strike him again when the son shot him, first in the shoulder and then in the bowels, and then the father was overpowered by a neighbor. Crawford had an ungovernable temper, and had several times threatened his son. The youth had procured the revolver for the defence of his life.

ROMAN CATHOLIC JUBILEE.—Archbishop Spaulding, of Baltimore, has issued a pastoral letter proclaiming what is called a jubilee, or season of prayer for gaining plenary indulgence, in the archdiocese of Baltimore, the occasion being taken in connection with the General Council of the Vatican, which has been convoked by the Pope, in Rome, at the Feast of the Immaculate Conception, on December 8th next. The time for gaining indulgence in this archdiocese will extend from August 15th until the close of the Ecumenical Council. This convocation in Rome will be one of the great church events of the century; it will be the first occasion, the Archbishop says, for more than 300 years—since the close of the Council of Trent, 1563—that the Pope has summoned all the Bishops of the Catholic Church to assemble from all parts of the earth in solemn council, to take into consideration the wants of the Church under present circumstances, and to devise the most suitable measures for supplying them. Archbishop Spaulding proposes to attend the Ecumenical Council.

COPPERHEAD NOMINATIONS.

The Copperhead State Convention met in Harrisburg on Wednesday last, with an unusually large attendance of outsiders to back up the rival candidates for the honor of being beaten in the Gubernatorial race this fall. For months there has been a bitter contest between the friends of Gen. Cass, of Alleghany, and Judge Packer, of Lehigh—both wealthy and heavily interested in Railroad interests. Both represent the Old Hunker wing of the Democracy. Shrewd politicians, anxious for victory, undertook to trot out Gen. Hancock, and the Young Democracy rallied to his standard with considerable show of enthusiasm. Harrisburg swarmed on Tuesday night with Cass, Packer and Hancock clubs parading the streets, each with bands of music, badges and banners, and caucusing went on through the entire night. The Old Hunkers put their foot down promptly on the Hancock movement, insisting upon a simon pure peace at-any-price Democrat.

As we go to press we have a telegram announcing the nomination of Judge Packer, after a bitter contest. We will have something to say of him hereafter. He is a man of respectable character, fair abilities, great wealth, a wool-dyed Democrat, but not a strong man. Either Hancock or Cass would have given Geary more trouble.

Packer was nominated on the 2nd ballot, as follows:

	1st Ballot.	2nd Ballot.
Asa Packer,.....	58	68
Gen. Cass,.....	48	47
Gen. Hancock,.....	22	19
Gen. McCandless,.....	5

The interest of the Convention centered in the Gubernatorial struggle. That ended, Hon. Cyrus L. Pershing, of Cambria, was nominated for Supreme Judge. He is a young lawyer of fair talent, and a Democrat of the straightest sect.

WHY HAS GETTYSBURG NO MACHINE SHOP?

MESSRS. EDITORS:—The above question is asked by many farmers of this county.—Gettysburg has a notoriety which no other place can boast of, and seems to be growing in importance. Yet why is it so deficient in this one great requisite of wealth and industry—a first class Machine Shop? Is it because of its Institutions of learning, its Mineral Spring and big Hotel, and its fame as a Battle-field, that it can thus bask in the sunshine—waiting for a God-send in the shape of some dedicatory servie, of ephemeral durability, to pour wealth into its lap? Mechanical industry is the only solid source of wealth and prosperity to any community, making it self-reliant and self-sustaining. When any enterprise is talked of, the general complaint is, we are too poor. No wonder—when everything that is needed either to carry on agriculture or any other branch of industry, has to be brought from some other section, thus keeping up a continued drain upon all our resources. "Money is scarce," "money is tight," is the cry. How can it well be otherwise, when it is sent all away, and that which would be double and treble profits to the mechanic, all eaten up by high freights, and agent's commissions? Besides having a very limited home market, we have to pay freight and commission on all our products sent away, which are mostly agricultural. "Money tight,"—surprising indeed; when even the banks refuse to discount, having sent all their money to the city to realize 10 to 12 per cent. saying, "it will not pay to put it out here at 6." Who pays this additional percentage? We do, on every dollar sent, by having it added to the cost of the products of the more enterprising manufacturers abroad, on all that we buy from them. There is probably no portion of the community feels the weight of this burden more than the agriculturist. Look at the vast amount of improved machinery now used by them, all of which is brought from other counties or other States. There are more than a dozen agents in this county selling Reapers and Mowers and Horse Rakes.—Say that the average sales of each are but $3000 a year; the amount will be $36,000, on which the average commission of the agents is 12½ per cent. to which add the freight, and this will make a difference of from $35 to $40 on each reaper. This is only one item. Look at the number of Separators, Threshing Machines, Grain Drills, Plows, Cultivators, and other improved Machinery, used by the farmers of the county, and then estimate the amount of money sent off annually. In consideration of these facts, the question recurs—will a Machine Shop pay at Gettysburg?—The right kind of a Machine Shop will. The only question is how shall we get the enterprise started? Will some one make suggestions through the columns of the "Star and Sentinel?"

A FARMER.

IN 1823 a man named Daniel Bumgardner arrived in Fremont, Ohio, from Pennsylvania. He lived with J. G. Rideout of Ballville township for nine years. He was not at all communicative, and little or nothing could be learned of his previous history.—In 1832, he built himself a hut on the bank of the Sandusky river, near the residence of James Moore, in which he lived alone until a few days ago, when, being quite sick, he desired to be taken to Mr. Moore's house, where he died on Sunday, June 27, aged 88 years. A few days ago, Mr. Rideout being in the part of Pennsylvania from which Bumgardner came, he made inquiries for his friends, and found that he was a man of family, and that his wife and children resided on a fine farm, and were in good circumstances. It seems that Bumgardner took it into his head to leave them, without giving them a day's notice, or taking any personal efforts, and that they did not know where he was. A few years ago a son of the old man came to see him, but he would not hold any conversation with him. He was universally known all over Fremont as the Hermit near Moore's.

HANDSOME PRESENTS.—The Collector of Customs of the port of Georgetown, a few days ago, received a magnificent collection of solid silver articles intended as presents for President Grant, General Sherman, ex-Secretary Seward and Mrs. Lincoln. They were sent to this country from Mexico by Sabos Iturbide, on behalf of a modest Mexican, who refused to have his name known, and who said that, in his transport of delight at the abolition of slavery, he was prompted to prepare these little tokens for some of the principal actors in that great work. President Grant receives a silver coffee set of thirty-six pieces and some dressed leopard skins; General Sherman an egg-boiler and holder. For ex-Secretary Seward there is an inkstand and pen-holder most ingeniously contrived, besides a call-bell, and Mrs. Lincoln's portion of the lot is a heavy card basket. Some idea may be formed of their value from the fact that the duty on the President's lot was $748, and on General Sherman's $164.

ABOUT three or four weeks ago, a little son of Mr. Hillegas, who resides in Upper Hanover Township, Montgomery County, Penn., was taken sick with dipheria. In a few days after the father and mother and a young babe were taken with the same disease, thus all of the family, four in number, being down at one time. The father, aged about thirty years, died on the 18th of June; Milton, the son, three years old, died on the 20th, and the babe, a daughter of ten days old, died on the same evening. The mother, who is the only one left of the family, is slowly recovering. Mr. Hillegas was the only support of an aged father, who is deranged.

CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE has been applied to for a writ of habeas corpus to take Colonel Yerger, of Jackson, Miss., who recently deliberately murdered Colonel Crane of the U. States army, in that city, from the custody of the military commission, by whom he is now being tried for his crime.—The point to be determined is whether so much of the Reconstruction acts as permits Military Commissions to try persons accused of crime is unconstitutional. The impression in legal circles is that if the Chief Justice should find that part of the law unconstitutional he will grant the writ, but if otherwise, he will dismiss the proceedings.

THE Copperheads, at the recent election in Virginia, ran and succeeded in electing several negroes to the Legislature of that State. By way of returning the compliment many of the darkies voted the Copperhead State Ticket, and gave that party a majority in both branches of the Legislature. Truly the world moves, though the Democrats of Adams do not seem to have discovered it.

THE fabrication of Egyptian mummies is carried on in Paris on a very high scale. One man alone, we are told, has manufactured no less than 800 "relics" of the Ptolemian era for provincial museums.

A COSTLY STAMP.—William F. Fair, of Newark, N. J., has been fined $1,000 for using a cancelled United States Revenue stamp.

LATER.—We are informed that another new stock has been received by Mr. F. DUPHORN. He is selling so cheap that no one should come to town without buying something at his store. Take your wool to him and exchange it for goods that you need. You get them just as cheap as for cash. Store North-west corner of Square. tf

The Star and Sentinel.

Gettysburg, Friday, July 16, 1869.

SOLD.—Samuel Wolf has sold the Globe Inn, in this place, to Frank Reamer of East Berlin, for $10,000.—Possession 1st of August.

SURVEY.—The survey of the Battlefield is still in progress, and will not be completed for a month or more. It is now in charge of Lieut. Turtle, Lieut. Chase having left on account of impaired health.

ACCIDENT.—Charles Young, aged 8 years, son of Samuel P. Young, of Littlestown, had his leg broken on the 5th inst., by being thrown from a patent horse rake, the horse becoming frightened and running away.

STOLEN.—A circular saw, with several colars and burrs, were taken from the Saw-mill of Samuel B. McKenrick, in Buchanon Valley on the night of the 12th ult. Mr. McK. offers a reward of $100 for the detection of the thieves and return of the property.

☞The Compiler of Fridays gives us two additional candidates for Sheriff—Emanuel D. Keller, of Cumberland township, and Jesse John, of York Springs. This makes no less than nine patriots anxious to serve the people in that particular line, with the privilege of pocketing the fees.

IMPROVEMENT.—We observe that Ephraim D. Newman has re-built his dwelling which was destroyed by fire last winter. It is on the site of the old one, on the top of the South Mountain.

Daniel Heintzelman is building a barn, 80 feet long, on his farm in the vicinity of Cashtown.

LEASED.—We understand that Messrs. Drake and Co., the proprietors of the famous "Plantation Bitters," have leased from Mr. Harman the exclusive right to bottle and ship the Gettysburg Katalysine Water. This lease will not interfere, however, with the supply of the water to guests of the Spring Hotel and citizens.

NARROW ESCAPE.—On the 1st inst., whilst David P. Forney, of Conowago township, was working in a field near his residence, he was startled by the whizzing of a musket ball, which passed through the rim of his hat, grazing his head. It is supposed to have been carelessly fired by one of the York Zouaves, who were marching along the McSherrystown road about half a mile distant.

SEVERE ACCIDENT.—We regret to learn that, on Thursday of last week, the wife of John Hanes, Esq., residing near Arendtsville, met with a serious accident. Whilst engaged in picking cherries, a limb of the tree broke, precipitating her violently to the ground, and resulting in several painful wounds and bruises about the head, a deep gash on the side of the left eye, and a severe wrench of an arm. She was taken up insensible, and remained in that condition about an hour.—Compiler.

INSTALLATION.—The Carlisle Presbytery met in this place on the 8th inst., to install Rev. Mr. Hillis, Pastor of the Presbyterian church of this place. The report of the examining committee being favorable, Mr. Hillis was ordained and installed on the evening of that day—Rev. Mr. Van Cleve making the opening prayer, Rev. Mr. Edwards, of Hagerstown, delivering the ordination sermon. Rev. Mr. Smith, of Williamsport, Md., delivered the charge to the pastor, and Rev. Dr. Edwards the charge to the people. The services were interesting and impressive.

GRADUATED.—The Commencement of Franklin and Marshall College, at Lancaster, took place last week. Among the graduates were Messrs. David B. Lady, of Arendtsville, who delivered a eulogy on Dr. H. Harbaugh, deceased, and J. Finley Hoke, of Gettysburg, who delivered an oration on Public Opinion. The Examiner thus speaks of their exercises:

Mr. Lady was the first speaker of the morning. He was only honorable mention. His Eulogy on Dr. Harbaugh was very fine, showing deep thought and careful study. His want of emphasis detracts very much from the effect of his delivery.

Mr. Hoke is easy and graceful, and speaks in an impressive manner. He stood too far back on the stage, so that he was often heard imperfectly.

☞In our hurried notice of matters connected with Commencement week, we neglected to note a few items. The Greiff Prize Essay, for the best essay on the first part of Bunyan's Pilgrim Progress, was awarded to E. T. Horn. The Hassler Junior Prize, for proficiency in Latin, was awarded to J. A. Himes. The Freshman Prize, for highest general scholarship, was given to John Brubaker.

E. G. Smyser, of York, and Christopher Grist, of Pittsburg, were elected Trustees of the College, to fill vacancies.

Messrs. A. Cook, H. S. Cook, Wm. H. Settlemoyer, and Geo. W. Wilson, of the Senior class of the Seminary, leave the Institution for the active work of the Ministry.

Rev. Dr. Hay was chosen by the Seminary Board to deliver the next Holman Lecture on the Augsburg Confession.

HOW TO AVOID SUNSTROKE.—The season when the sun's rays pour down with their greatest intensity, and inflict upon the head of man the dangerous malady known as coup de soleil, is now at hand, and it is well to remid persons of the fact. Very simple precautions will save persons from being seized by the malady in question. One of the best preventives is a thin piece of sponge loosely sewed into the top of the hat, and occasionally moistened with water in the course of the day. We have heard of a man who walked twenty miles under a hot sun with a damp pocket-handkerchief inside the crown of his hat, and did not suffer any inconvenience. The precautions are so obvious and simple that people do not regard them. Were they complicated and expensive, their use would be more general.

PICK POCKETS.—The crowd in Gettysburg during the Dedication ceremonies naturally drew to Gettysburg some of the light-fingered gentry; but in view of the excellent police arrangements they did not have much opportunity to ply their vocation very extensively. In addition to the watch-robbery alluded to last week, we understand that Mr. Jones Yeatts was relieved of his pocket book and $316; Mr. Albert Vandyke, of Franklin township, of a pocket book and $18; and Mr. Abraham Troxell, of Baltimore, of a pocket book and $20. Messrs. J. C. Pittenturf, Francis M. Budy, and George Gingell, lost their pocket books, with small amounts of money; but the pocket books were subsequently recovered—those of the two former being found in the yard of the Keystone House, and that of the latter in Rupp's bark shed.

ARRESTED.—In our last we noticed the fact that a new born colored child had been found, abandoned, at the door of John Wilson, on the Chambersburg road. Detective ROUZER, on being advised of the matter, took the case in hand and worked it up with his accustomed shrewdness and persistency, resulting in the discovery of the mother of the child—a colored woman, named Susan Davis. Susan, we believe, on being arrested owned up, saying that "she didn't know how to keep it—that Wilson had a cow, and she thought he might keep it until she could find a place for it." The child was born on Tuesday night, and was found early next morning at Wilson's door. Susan was committed to answer the charge of abandonment, at the next court.

Being detected herself, Susan turned round and made information against Alexander Smith, colored, charging him with the paternity of the child. Smith was arrested and bound over to answer the charge of fornication and bastardy at Court.

REMINISCENCES.—On our first page will be found the first of a series of Biographical Sketches of prominent Americans, which Mrs. LINCOLN PHELPS, of Baltimore, has kindly placed at our disposal. For near a quarter of a century Mrs. PHELPS stood in the front rank of American educators. The Patapsco Institute, under her administration, was the leading Female educational institution south of Mason and Dixon's line, but embraces on its roll of graduates the names of pupils from almost every State in the Union, many of them now occupying high social positions. The influence of Patapsco Institute was long recognized and appreciated especially in the Border States and throughout the South, while that of the Troy Female Seminary, under Mrs. PHELPS's elder sister, the accomplished Mrs. EMMA WILLARD, enjoyed an equally high reputation in New England.—Both have left their impress upon the educational development of the country. In addition to their labors as practical educators, both Mrs. WILLARD and Mrs. PHELPS prepared and published valuable text-books on History, Philosophy, Botany, &c., which found their way as standard manuals into the best educational institutions. Both of them have further, from time to time, contributed largely to the literature of the country, by miscellaneous writings and contributions. Thus occupying prominent positions, both ladies were necessarily brought largely into personal acquaintance with distinguished men of the past—more particularly Mrs. PHELPS, the sphere of whose educational labors was mainly within easy access of the National Capitol. We presume there are few ladies now living who have had more extended personal acquaintance with the men and women who for a quarter of a century prior to the Rebellion ruled the political and social circles of Washington—none, if she had the leisure or inclination, who could open a richer mine of valuable and interesting reminiscences of the golden days of the Republic, when Clay, and Calhoun, and Webster, and Randolph, and Hayne, and Choate, and their like, gave character to the American Congress.

The brief sketch in to-day's issue, revives the incident in Jackson's Administration, growing out of the status of Mrs. EATON, one of his Cabinet Ministers, and which at the time created great excitement in the social circles of the National Capitol.

BATTLE-FIELD MEMORIALS.—The Battle-field Memorial Association recently had a meeting and resolved to initiate steps to inclose the more prominent events of the three days' struggles, with the positions of the forces, the corps, divisions, and brigades, by permanent memorials, making the field of battle its own interpreter, and thus perpetuating the history of the battle in its simple truth, and of affording alike to citizen and visitor, a ready acquaintance with this battle, which, perhaps, better than any other, illustrates the greatest wager of battle of the century. The more readily to accomplish this purpose, and secure accuracy in the memorials, it is proposed to invite the Generals who commanded corps, divisions, and brigades in the battle, to meet in Gettysburg in the first week in August, to confer together and determine the points to be indicated. Should this arrangement be carried out, as we hope it may, we will have another interesting Reunion of prominent Union officers in August.

In this connection we notice in the despatches of the Associate Press, the statement that the occasion may bring to Gettysburg Gen. Sickles and other Rebel officers, as well as those of the Union army. We have no authority to speak for the Association, but we can hardly think its action contemplates any thing of that kind.—While possibly no person would object to the presence of Rebel officers, we presume neither Gen. Lee or any of his Lieutenants would care to come to Gettysburg to aid in erecting memorials to signalize, in all coming time, the defeat of their armies and the ruin of the cause their armies represented—nor would it be in good taste to invite them to come. We don't suppose the Association contemplates anything of the kind. No doubt, however, the Association will avail itself of all the information it can obtain to indicate accurately the important points of the field, whether obtained from Rebel or Union sources.

THE SPRINGS HOTEL.—The large Hotel at the Katalysine Spring is rapidly filling up. We understand that all the rooms on the first and second floors have been occupied for some days, and guests now arriving are being quartered in the 3d story. Under the efficient management of Dr. SMITH, an excellent impression is being made upon all who test the merrits of the house. There are accessaries needed in the way of bathing facilities and outdoor amusements, which the management will supply in due time.

The hotels and boarding houses in town are also rapidly filling up with strangers, who come to recreate during the coming season, and enjoy our pure mountain air.

Yesterday afternoon we had a friendly call from Col. DAVIS, of the Doylestown Intelligencer, who has abandoned the editorial sanctum for a few weeks recreation in our midst. The Colonel is a clever fellow and a live editor. In the war for the suppression of the Rebellion he rendered gallant service in the field, having been severely wounded at Fair Oaks and at Charlestown; but he has the bad taste to be a Democrat.

The following paragraph we find in the Baltimore American of the 13th, which, from the initials, we take to be from Mrs. LINCOLN PHELPS, of that city, who, with a portion of her family, is stopping at the Springs Hotel:

GETTYSBURG SPRINGS HOTEL,
July 10, 1869.

Editors of Baltimore American.

In kindness to those who are inquiring for a pleasant summer retreat, I write from this place to assure your readers that the Gettysburg Springs Hotel offers many inducements besides the water, which is so deservedly celebrated for its curative and invigorating qualities. Every accommodation is here afforded, luxurious beds, clean rooms, furnished with all conveniences, even to rocking chairs and writing tables. If a backgammon board chance to be wanting, Dr. Smith, the obliging host, forthwith sends to town for it. The nearness and facility of access from Baltimore and Washington to this place should be considered by those who would leave the cities for rural scenes, and mountainous breezes.—From a guest at the Hotel. A. L. P.

LOOK OUT.—We notice by our exchanges that circulars are being again freely sent out by parties in New York, proposing to sell imitation United States Treasury Notes at very low rates, packages representing $200, in various denominations, for $15, and larger sums in proportion. We hear of similiar circulars in this region. One was shown to us the other day—cautiously prepared, professedly confidential, and well calculated to impress unsuspecting persons with the idea that they are to get genuine fac-similes of United States money. If any of our readers are green enough to be caught in the trap, and risk their money, they will get a liberal supply of postage stamps or miniature photographs of Treasury Notes.

HAIL STORM.—On Wednesday evening a heavy thunder storm passed over the central part of the county. Along Marsh Creek, there was a heavy fall of hail stones, covering the farms of Hon. Edward McPherson, John F. Currens, James Bigham, John Socks, and others, doing much damage to the growing oats, corn and fruit. In town the hail was scarcely perceptible.

ARREST.—On Monday morning last, John R. Turner, a well-known building contractor in this valley, was arrested in Carlisle, by officer Houser, on the charge of forging a judgment note for $6,800, on Mr. Henry Shepler, of Chambersburg. Turner entered $3,000, bail before Justice Smith, of Carlisle, for his appearance at our next term of court.—Franklin Repository.

RAILROAD MOVEMENTS.—We have from time to time noticed movements looking to the construction of a Railroad from Wilmington, Delaware, through Chester, Lancaster and York counties, to Hanover Junction. Meetings were held last fall at various points along the proposed line in furtherance of the movement; but hearing little of it recently, we supposed the matter had died out. It seems not. We have before us the Wilmington Tribune of July 1 and 6, each of which issues contains leading editorials warmly urging the enterprise. It seems that the Legislature of Delaware has incorporated a company under the title of the Wilmington and Western Railroad Company, and that a special act was obtained from the Pennsylvania Legislature authorizing the construction of that portion of the road between the State line and the point where connection will be made with the Parkesburg road. This company is about organizing and it is proposed at once to build the first section, some 12 or 14 miles, from Wilmington to Chandlerville, in Chester county, where it will intersect the Parkesburg and Delaware city road. Having reached this point, the Tribune thinks it will stimulate the work already begun of organizing a company to extend the road through Lancaster county to Peachbottom, and thence to Hanover Junction and Gettysburg.—The great Southern tier of Pennsylvania counties, with their magnificent farming lands, uncut timber, their slate, iron, lime, marble, bituminous coal, must wait for such a railroad to open to them the markets of the great seaboard cities, and the wharves of tide water. The Tribune urges the importance of the enterprise and thinks that if Wilmington shall show the people of these counties that she is enterprising and earnest, they will strike hands with her in the work.

READABLE BOOKS.—Messrs. Hurd & Houghton, 459 Broom street, New York, advertise in another column a number of excellent publications issued from their press, and specially adapted for summer reading, which are deserving the attention of the reader.

The same publishers have also added a volume to their four editions of Dicken's Works, which is unique in character, and completes the various sets. It is called "Master Humphrey's Clock," taking its name from the first and largest portion of the volumé. It may be remembered that Mr. Dickens commenced in 1840 the publication of a serial work under the above title. Master Humphrey was the principal character—on old gentleman of a prattling turn of mind, who acted as a sort of chairman of an antiquated club, whose meetings were held under the shadow of his tall clock, out of the case of which came manuscript rolls of stories. Mr. Pickwick reappears, and so do Sam Weller and his father, and even a third Weller in the person of Sam's small son Tony, who is a miniature likeness of his grandfather; and very early, under the tuition of that patriarch, displays an interest in pints and quarts. It seemed to be the author's intention to incorporate in this framework various short stories, but after a while, getting warmed with the tale of the "Old Curiosity Shop," the voices of Master Humphrey and his friends die away, revived only occasionally to remind of the original plan and thus explain the title. The "Old Curiosity Shop" and "Barnaby Rudge" were both included thus in "Master Humphrey's Clock," but are entirely independent of it. The fiction of Master Humphrey was then dropped, not to be resumed, and the portions printed have never until now been published in collections of Mr. Dickens' Works. Here they are to be found, and will be read with interest as if forming a new novel by the great author. This volume gives to Hurd and Houghton's four editions a completeness which no other editions in America or England possess: and the purchaser may take his choice, according to his taste and his pocket, between the cheap, compact, readable "Globe," the richly illustrated, elegant "Riverside," the voluminous, graceful "Household," and the superb "Large Paper," with its India-proof pictures, its wide margin, and its limited edition of one hundred copies only to subscribers.

A RARE CHANCE.—We have learned that through a misunderstanding about 20 sets of Cottage Furniture were sent to the Springs Hotel, more than they required. The manufacturers are anxious to dispose of them, and will offer them at wholesale prices to persons wishing to purchase.—Such an opportunity rarely presents itself to buy handsome furniture at as low a rate as they are now offered. We advise our readers to call and examine them at the room of GEO. A. WARNER & Co., who have undertaken the sale of them. It

TRANSFORMATION.—The "Transformation Scene" in "Black Crook" of which we used to hear so much must have been a wonderful thing, but we doubt if it was anything more wonderful than some of the "transformations" made every day at Oak Hall. Many a man goes in there looking so rough and threadbare that one would never suspect the smooth and generous heart he covers with his "old clothes," and he comes out in a few minutes looking so "spruce" and gentlemanly, that ten to one you would take him for one of the proprietors. The only part not much "transformed" is the "pocket"—for the man finds in his new breeches "almost as much money" as he had in the old ones, and counting in the breeches themselves, by George, he has more money. THE BEST.—Tonics have of late years gained rapidly in public estimation, and are far more generally employed by first-class physicians than they once were. The reason for this is that it is a generally established fact that wholesome tonics used in moderation daily for years do not loose their virtue, neither do they injure the system.—They act in fact like air and exercise, and not as "medicines," which are intended solely for attacks of illness. The BITTER PRINCIPLES, especially those of vegetable origin, all possess the common property of stimulating the appetite, strengthening the nervous system, and of imparting strength. Women generally derive benefit from them even more than men, their system being more liable to debility and exhaustion.—We have again and again in our experience seen the good effects of tonics where the eyes had grown dim and the cheeks pale, and the entire frame showed every indication of exhaustion, nervous suffering and debility.

The best established bitters before the American public are beyond question those of Dr. Stoever, and this is equivalent to declaring that they are the best, since among the scores of really excellent bitters now current, a poor article has no chance of success whatever. The most ignorant person can tell at once by its effects, almost from a single dose, whether any bitters are good or bad. These of Stoever have been sold for thirty years, are composed of sixteen of the safest roots and herbs of a well-known tonic virtue, so skillfully selected and compounded with regard to their mutual effects, that it may be doubted whether any more perfect form of this medicine can be made.

Thousands of persons are exposed to or afflicted with fever and ague, bilious ague or other results of malaria. Let them remember that these bitters are as admirable in such cases, as for diarrhœa and cholera morbus, or any ordinary derangement of the stomach. Try them and be satisfied that they should be in the stores of every family, and the trunk of every traveler.

It is a favorable feature in the advertisement of the proprietors of Dr. Stoever's Tonic Herb Bitters, that no claims are made that they will cure every ill that flesh is heir to. The weakest intellect can hardly be imposed upon when told that this or that remedy will remove every form of disease in every stage, and yet we can not take up the majority of journals without encountering an advertisement declaring that this or that medicine is a nostrum which is a perfect apothecary's shop, and a whole college of physicians in itself, rendering all other cures useless. What is claimed for Dr. Stoever's Bitters is simply that they will act as a good tonic, and are capable of doing as much good as a preparation of bitter principle can. They will not cure incurable diseases, but they will often prevent a certain class of disorders from becoming incurable. The references and certificates issued in their favor are all true and honest, and of these there are hundreds.

FROM THE MEDICAL PROFESSION.

LANCASTER, July 25, 1868.

KEYDER & Co.—Gentlemen: In reply to yours of the 22d inst., I would say that I have used Dr. Stoever's Tonic Herb Bitters extensively in my practice during several years past. I do not hesitate to say that I have found it to possess remarkable efficacy in cases of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Loss of Nervous Energy, as well as Fever and Ague, Diarrhœa, Headache and other diseases proceeding from a disordered stomach; and especially has it proved of inestimable value in general debility of the system, when other tonic medicines have failed to produce the desired effect.

Though reluctant to appear as recommending any particular advertised medicine, a sense of duty to the public and the medical faculty will not allow me to withhold my testimony to the merits of the Bitters in question. Yours, respectfully,

IMPROVED MORNING GLORY.—The famous Morning Glory Stove, so popular as a parlor and office stove, has sometimes been objected to for use in chambers and by families needing but one fire, because not adapted to heat water, &c.—This difficulty has been overcome, and last Monday we saw one of the improved Morning Glories in operation at the Warerooms of Col. C. H. BUEHLER, on Carlisle street, which seems not only to obviate objections but to meet every desired want. It is nothing more or less than the ordinary Morning Glory, with an Oven about 15 inches in diameter attached, and ingeniously arranged dampers by which the heat can be thrown around the oven at pleasure, and making it as hot as the ovens of the best cooking stoves. Water can be boiled, pies baked, and even meat roasted as readily as in a cooking stove. This contrivance, while preserving all the qualities of the Morning Glory as a heater, adapts it for the sick chamber, or use in small families requiring but little cooking. tf

SINGULAR CASE.—We are reliable informed of rather a singular affair which occured last week on the premises of Mr. Wm. Carbaugh, in Union township, Adams county. For some time past a cow belonging to Mr. Carbaugh, had been pasturing in a field in which there is considerable underbrush, and for a number of weeks it became evident the cow had been milked from two of the small teats, which only at times gave milk. This could not be accounted for until last week, when a large black snake was found sucking the cow. It was killed, and was perfectly bloated with milk.

COMMERCIAL FERTILIZERS.

The Secretary of the Connecticut Board of Agriculture procured last winter samples of sixteen articles known in commerce as "fertilizers," and submitted them to Professor S. W. Johnson, of Yale College, the well-known agricultural chemist, for analysis. Professor Johnson received them from Secretary Gold without names or labels, except numbers for identification, and on receipt of the results of his analysis the Secretary has added to each its name and price, and has published the whole, for the benefit of farmers.

The report shows also how much it would cost to buy in other forms the materials which give these fertilizers their value. Thus the farmer has before him all the information needed to choose the cheapest material for his purposes, whether it be a patented or proprietary compound, or a mixture of his own manufacture.

It appears that in every instance most of the substance sold consists of water or sand, or carbonate or sulphate of lime; of some material, in short, which can be obtained at very little expense. This is mixed with phosphates and nitrogenous matters in very different proportions; but the really valuable component parts are but a small proportion of the whole. There is a strong reason to suspect that some of the articles sold as fertilizers at high prices must be products of deliberate fraud; their value to the farmer being in strange contrast with the price at which they are offered and advertised.

The sample which proved the best of all is sold for $50 per ton; and contains actual fertilizing ingredients which it would cost the farmer $47 32 in gold, or more than $60 in currency, to buy separately in any common form. Next to this comes one, the useful parts of a ton of which are reckoned to be worth $32 09 in gold, and which is sold at $65 in currency. On the other hand, a popular article, sold at $28 per ton, is estimated to be really worth as a fertilizer not more than $2 33 per ton in gold, or but one-ninth of its price; and many other favorite articles of this class seem to deserve their reputation but little better, if the samples obtained by Mr. Gold are enough to sustain a final judgement.

The trade in fertilizers in now very large; and it is likely that some of those engaged in it are not scrupulous. It becomes farmers to investigate with care the question, what is the best? and to drive from the market articles in which a high standard of value is not maintained. This is better than to invoke the aid of the state, with Mr. Gold, who thinks that other states ought to imitate Maine, where a law has been passed requiring every package of this kind of goods to be marked with the percentage of valuable ingredients contained in it; and inflicting penalties for inaccuracy. There seems to be no good reason why farmers cannot take care of themselves in this matter as well as other consumers, who are likely to be imposed on by poor or adulterated goods.—N. Y. Post.

ORCHARD GRASS.—We have no knowledge of the value of this grass for fattening cattle; but we think our dairymen have yet to learn how valuable it is for their purposes. It is sown through this section hardly by one farmer in twenty, why we do not know, excepting that it would be an innovation on the routine system of clover and timothy, which has been in vogue for a hundred years.

Orchard grass is one of the very earliest to start in the spring. It not only comes forward early, but it grows continuously through the season. No other grass is so little affected by drouths, or will bear without injury heavy stocking. It seems to grow and keep green till almost New Year, and is most emphatically a permanant pasture, lasting many years, improving the soil by the radiation of its numerous fibrous roots, and will crowd out daisies and most other vegetation. It wants to occupy the ground solely.

Orchard grass is, however, the most unsuitable of all grasses for the lawn or grass plot around the house on account of its rank growth and tendency to grow in bunches. This is obviated in the field only by thick sowing, which should be not less than two bushels per acre. For hay it should be cut quite young, and a good plan is to sow clover with it. This lasts a couple of years, when the orchard grass will crowd it out and take possession. An orchard grass sod, on being ploughed up, is always found to be black and rich. It is a meliorator and improver of the soil.—Practical Farmer.

PLANT AN ORCHARD.—No matter whether your farm is small or large, don't rest content until you have an orchard of fruit-trees. "We do not advise farmers indiscriminately," says The Countryman, "to undertake to raise fruit for market. Each one should judge for himself as the feasibility of such an enterprise. But we do say to every farmer, raise fruit, or try to do so, at least for the use of your own family. It will largely pay in pleasure and in health, if you never sell a dollar's worth. In selecting varieties, choose those kinds that usually do well in your locality. Deal, if possible, with reliable fruit-tree dealers, rather than with agents who are strangers to you. And don't set out an orchard under the delusion that setting out the trees will be about all the work that will be necessary. In this day of many enemies to fruit and fruit-trees, it may be said that eternal vigilance is the price of fruit. Land devoted to fruit-trees need not be worthless to the owner. Some valuable crops can be raised in the orchard almost until the trees become old enough to bear; and by the time they reach bearing age, in this case, there will probably be a market close enough. But, as we said above, if you never sell a dollar's worth of fruit, your orchard assuredly will, if properly attended to, pay you and your family, in health and comfort, for all your labor and expense."

A SUPERB CROP OF POTATOES.—Such a one, says an exchange, was raised in the Blue Ridge region of Virginia in this wise:

"The soil was a sandy loam, covered with a thick sod of many years standing. This sod was turned over four inches deep, with a heavy three-horse bar shear plough. The seed was dropped in every other furrow, and covered by the inverted sod of the succeeding furrow. As soon as the planting was finished, light harrows were run over the surface until it was level and smooth. After the potatoes were well up, another harrowing was given, and then one more working with cultivators made as fine a crop as we ever saw. Now, here was a process differing very materially from that laid down as the proper one to be pursued in the cultivation of potatoes. We give it here, not as worthy of imitation, but simply as an agricultural fact of more or less value. The area cultivated was a large one—fifty acres—and time was wanting to give the ground a thorough preparation. The secret of success probably, in this instance, was a loose bed, formed by the decaying sod, and an uncommonly good season. Fifty bushels of gypsum was the only manure used."

A BASHFUL youth was lamenting to his paternal progenitor the ordeal of popping the question. "Pooh!" said the patriarch, "how do you think I managed?" "You'd better talk," responded the hopeful; "you married mother, and I've got to marry a strange gal!"

A KENTUCKY father keeps his daughter chained to a log in order to prevent her marrying contrary to his wishes.

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as the excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its usefulness are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in nowise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgements we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies have badly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR

FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE

H A I R .

The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for useful ness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair,
